STEADY PROGRESS MADE BY BRITISH ON BAPAUME FRONT

Allies Within Striking Distance of the Old Hindenburg Line

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the British Army in France, Monday, Aug 26 (Evening) —The extension of the British line north of the Scarpe has brought the attackers to within striking distance of a good part in the Hindenburg line, back of which is open country with the terrain and roads in excellent condition for the movement of tanks and horses.

The British made steady progress again today, especially on the new section of the front, around Bapaume and astride the Somme. German resistance again was stubborn. However, it is beginning to look as though the enemy is fighting rear guard actions with the hope of holding up the British until he can move his material to the rear

No fresh German divisions have been identified in the recent fighting.

The strategy of the German high command now is to leave battered divisions to fight rear guard actions, and incidentally, to have a large part of the remnants of these formations chewed to pieces by the British fire

Elements of nearly thirty German divisions, many of which have been badly hit and crippled, are striving to hold off the British There are signs of even greater confusion behind the German lines. Companies of various regiments have been thrown in almost any place The strength of a large number of these companies has been whittled down until they hardly contain 25 men, according to prisoners, many more of whom have passed through the collecting cages.

General Ludendorf perhaps has some plans to make a stand to the rear of the present line, and is saving what men he can for that purpose It would not be surprising of the enemy intended to put up a stiff defense somewhere on a line running generally north and south through Peronne

There was hard fighting today around Bapaume Favreuil, just north of Bapaume, has been taken and the streets run red with the blood of Germans killed

From Favreuil the British pushed east and south further encircling Bapaume.

There are unconfirmed rumors that British patrols have reconnoitered into Bapaume and have gone some distance without seeing any of the enemy. British shells have been raining down on Bapaume for many hours. Large numbers of prisoners captured have not yet ar-

EACH TENTH MAN SHOT FOR REFUSAL TO OBEY ORDERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Amsterdam, Aug. 27.—There are persistent rumors from a German source, says the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf, that a German battalion on being ordered to the front unanimously refused to go, whereupon every tenth man was shot. The others then gave up their resistance.

AMERICAN GRIT WILL HELP WIN THE GREAT WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the American Army in France, Monday, Aug. 26 —American courage and grit again were exemplified Saturday night when units on the Woevre front repulsed a German raid without serious loss.

One American sustained 16 machine-gun bullet wounds—three in the calf of the leg, 10 between the knee and the waist, and three in the arm—but fought on. He will recover and be able to return to the fray. This soldier probably holds the American record for simultaneous wounds. Another American was badly wounded in the stomach from fragments of a grenade and his nose was blown off and his face torn He continued to fight the Germans and had almost to be forced to go to a dressing station.

2—British have taken Bray and are marching on Peronne, important German base.

3—French press closer to Noyon.

4—Americans on Vesle report many fires in the German rear, which seemingly indicates an extensive retreat is planned in this quarter.

5—Germans are retreating over roads from Chauny to Coucy.

6—Germans reported fortifying heights of the Meuse in Belgium. This line would include Verdun, Mezieres, Dinant, Namur and Liege.

THIS IS MERE PASTIME FOR HUN AIRMEN

Washington, Aug. 27.—Details of the recent shelling of an American Red Cross bathhouse for Belgian soldiers near the Belgian front in which 23 Belgian employes were killed and 60 others injured were received today at American Red Cross headquarters. The three large buildings including a laundry and fumigating plant gave employment to about 200 persons.

A shell hit the roof of the laundry of the bath about 11 o'clock in the morning. Fragments penetrated all three structures and destroyed them. Men, women and children were hurled in every direction and for long distances. Parts of bodies were found in the street may feet from the structure.

An hour after the shell hit the building a soldier brought a bundle to the hospital and said to a physician: "What must I do with this?" It was the arm of a little boy he had found in a vacant lot.

Madam Rolin, for the Belgians, took charge of the women and assisted the Red Cross in immediate relief work. A large sum of money was made available by the Red Cross at once for the relief of the injured and their families.

The employes were refugees driven from Belgian towns by the German advance. A little hunchback girl, who was supporting her widowed mother, lost both legs. At the hospital she said to her mother: "It doesn't matter so much. I can still sit and sew. I will be a dressmaker and we can get along."

BATTLEFIELD COVERED WITH GERMAN DEAD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the French Armies in France Monday, Aug 26.—Heavy German forces made a desperate attempt to drive the French from the heights between Juvigny and Crecy-Au-Mont yesterday. The attack was carried out by the first guards divisions, which has been brought from the regions of Charlesville.

The French at first yielded a little ground between Pont St. Mard and Orme-le-Montecouve. They then brilliantly counter-attacked the enemy and not only manager to re-establish their former positions but made a slight advance occupying a line more to the east and moving into the Domaine wood.

Late in the evening the enemy made a number of attacks on the new French line but they were repulsed in fighting of the severest character The battlefield was covered with German dead.

AMER. PATROL BOAT MISTAKEN FOR SUB, SUNK

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—American submarine chaser No. 209, operating out of Philadelphia was mistaken for a submarine by a merchant steamer off Fire Island, N. Y., early this morning and sent to the bottom. Seventeen members of her crew, including the commander and the executive officer are missing.

The chaser was manned by naval reserves. Eight of the survivors, some of the wounded, have been landed at New York and one has been landed at Lewes, Delaware.

The merchant ship was the American steamer Felix Taussig. In the darkness her naval armed guard mistook the chaser for an enemy submarine and opened fire, destroying the little craft before the mistake was discovered.

Of the surivors landed the following were wounded:

Thomas Harran, chief boatwain's mate; Claude Wild, machinist mate; Clarence S. Evans, machanist's mate and R. A. Corcoran, quartermaster.

The unwounded surivors are:

GERMANS ATTACKED BY THE AMERICANS WEST OF FISMES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the American Forces on the Vesle, Aug. 27.—(1 p. m.)—American troops today attacked the Germans in the region of Bazoches, three miles west of Fismes. Simultaneously the Germans attacked the American lines at Fismette, about a mile northwest of Fismes.

Infantry fighting in the outskirts of Bazoches still is continuing. The Americans at present are holding the upper-hand.

CONTINUED PROGRESS MADE BY BRITISH IN THE GREAT BATTLE NOW RAGING IN NORTHERN PICARDY, TROOPS PUSHING FORWARD THREE MILES

LONDON WAR OFFICE ANNOUNCES THAT 21,000 HUNS HAVE BEEN TAKEN SINCE WEDNESDAY

Troops Have Reached Western and Northern Outskirts of Bapaume, Which is Considered Keystone of Enemy Lines in That Sector of Picardy—Closing in on Dompierre, Which May be the Pivot of the German Lines South of the Somme in the Direction of Chaulnes—French Troops are Once More Advancing Nearer Roye.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Aug. 27.—British forces are established in the northern outskirts of Bapaume, according to the official statement issued at the war office today.

British forces in the great battle in northern Picardy are making progress toward the village of Beugnatre, two and a half miles northeast of Bapaume, according to the official statement issued at the war office today. There is hard fighting around Croisilles, further north, the statement says. Since last Wednesday the British have taken 21,000 prisoners, the statement says.

The British have pushed through the town of Montauban, three miles north of the Somme and, capturing the wood near that place, have reached Longueval, the statement says.

North of the Scarpe river Scottish troops renewed their attack against the Germans last night and have advanced towards Plouvain.

The text of the statement reads:

"Severe fighting took place on the field of the old Somme battle between Maricourt and Bapaume and also north of the latter town yesterday afternoon and evening. The enemy counter-attacked repeatedly, incurring great losses from the fire of our troops, but being unable to arrest our progress.

"English and Welsh troops pushed through Montauban and advanced along the crest of the ridge, capturing high wood and reaching Longueval. In the latter village we were heavily counter-attacked and forced back toward Bazentin-Le-Grand and High Wood. On this line we broke the enemy's attack and again advancing established ourselves well to the east of High Wood.

"Early in the night a second enemy counter attack was driven off by rifle fire before the Germans reached our position.

"North of Highwood the enemy twice counter-attacked in the neighborhood of Ligny and Thilloy, pressing back our advanced troops some 400 or 500 yards. There his infantry was stopped and driven back.

"At Bapaume the New Zealanders after fierce fighting established themselves in the northern outskirts of the town.

"Further north English troops progressed toward Beugnatre. We have had hard fighting about Croisilles.

"On the right of the battle front the Australians continued their advance astride the Somme and made substantial progress toward Lompierre and to the east of Suzanne.

"On the left of the battlefront the Canadians yesterday captured the ridge to the east of Wancourt and established themselves to the east of Guemappe.

"North of the river Scarpe, Scottish troops renewed their attack last night and they have made substantial progress toward Plouvain.

"Prisoners taken since the morning of August 21, exceeded 21,000."

GREAT GERMAN STRONGHOLD ABOUT READY TO FALL INTO HANDS OF BRITISH TROOPS

(Compiled from A.-P. Dispatches)

Smashing through the German lines in the battlefield of northern Picardy, British troops have reached the western and northern outskirts of Bapaume, the town which has been considered the keystone of the enemy lines in that sector of the front.

The official statement issued at London today shows slow but continued progress in almost every part of the line from Croisilles, far to the north, to well below the Somme river.

The British are advancing toward Beugnatre, two and a half miles northeast of Bapaume. Nearer the Somme river they have moved eastward along the difficult ground that borders that stream. They are reported east of Suzanne, which is situated on the northern bank of the river and are closing in on Compierre which may be the pivot of the German lines south of the Somme in the direction of Chaulnes.

French troops are once more advancing nearer Roye, the official statement issued at Paris telling of successes near St. Mard, about a mile southwest of Roye. Heavy German counter attacks were repulsed in this region.

Between the Ailette and the Aisne the French have repulsed German counter-attacks and have advanced their line about three quarters of a mile in the district east of Bagneux. This advance should bring General Mangin's armies nearly north of the town of Juvigny, which appears to be important from a defensive point of view.

There is little indication however that the German armies are demoralized in the battle that is going on from Arras to Soissons. At every point they seem to be fighting savagely and to be compelling the British and French to extend themselves

PULLMAN CAR OF PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN LEAVES TRACK AND OVERTURNS AT UNION STREET AT AN EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING

Tumbled from their berths into a heap in the aisles of a Pullman car, twelve passengers on Pennsylvania train No. 30 had an unusual experience early this morning. The car left the track and went down an embankment at the Union street crossing at 2 o'clock this morning.

Awakened by the sensation of being dragged as the coach rode the rails, eleven men and one woman, passengers on a through fast train, eastbound on the Pennsylvania road, had a miraculous escape from injury and possibly death. As it was, all escaped without a scratch through the window and over the top of the derailed car.

Train No. 30 eastbound, was switched over to the westbound track at Central City, owing to a car being off the track at the local railroad yards

About one hundred feet east of Pine street crossing, the last coach, a Pullman, left the rails, but the momentum of the train carried it along G. A. Miles, the watchman at the Union street tower heard the bumping of the derailed coach and though momentarily expecting it to take the tower with it as it did the shanty and coal shed, he stuck to his post.

The car remained righted, however, until after it passed the tower when it toppled and overturned, going down a fifteen foot embankment just south of the crossing. It slid down roof first. The stopping of the train probably caused the coach to overturn. It being a steel car was the only thing that probably saved the lives of the passengers.

As soon as the train stopped the passengers in the coach, who had been tumbled from their berths and were in a heap in the aisle, began to scramble to safety. With the assistance of the train crew and residents in the vicinity of the crossing they emerged from the train through the windows on the free side. The big coach rested on one side, and on that side the windows were all broken, and the wood on the car torn

Attired scantily in their night garb, the men were taken to coaches ahead of the derailed one, while the one woman was taken to the home of Mrs Jack Huffman nearby where she dressed and the train waited for her. She was from Washington and

PLANS FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF CITY APPROVED AT PUBLIC MEETING AND NEWARK TO BE PLACED IN ESSENTIAL CLASS

The plan for the industrial development of Newark, which the industrial development committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been working out for some time, was approved by a representative group of citizens at a meeting at the Masonic Temple last night. The meeting was called by the committee after various group meetings had been held last week, at which the industrial situation in Newark and the proposed plan to remedy it were thoroughly discussed from every standpoint.

President J. S. Herzog of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the industrial development committee, presided. He gave the reasons for the meeting, setting forth the situation as it exists today in Newark. The plan as worked out by the committee was presented by E M Baugher. It calls for the individual efforts of each man for a period of two days, Sept 4 and 5, to bring the plan before the people, enlisting them to become "shareholders in their city."

Manager T. J. Appleyard of the chamber spoke on the necessity of some plan being adopted that would provide for the city's workers essential occupation. He emphasized the necessity of the city taking immediate steps to put itself in the essential class.

The slogan of the meeting was: "War first; Newark second; business third (if there is any time left for business)." Placards bearing this slogan were posted conspicuously and the spirit of the meeting was that the first thing to be taken into consideration at this time was the winning of the war.

The personnel of the industrial development committee, which has had the matter in charge and which will be responsible for the carrying out of the plans as outlined is as follows:

J. S. Herzog, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mayor H. A. Atherton; E. T. Wagonhals, public utilities; W. M. Morgan, labor organizations; J. F. Bonham, contractors; O. J. Barnes, superintendent of schools; Fred C. Evans, real estate; F. M. B. Windle, insurance; W. C. Metz and Warren Suter, banks; C. V. Wise, manufacturers Wesley Montgomery, building material; E. M. Baugher, building and loan associations; W. W. Davis, civic bureau,

WILLIS IN CONTROL OF THE CONVENTION CONVENING TODAY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Aug. 27.—National and state-wide prohibition for the first time in the history of Ohio, will in all probability receive the endorsement by one of the major political parties in its party platform.

Indications today pointed strongly to the adoption tomorrow of a strong prohibition plank by the Republican platform convention which convevened here this afternoon. With former Governor Frank B. Willis, the party-candidate for governor, in absolute control of the convention and party organization, and the fact that he is an open advocate of both ratification of the federal prohibition amendment and the adoption of the state-wide dry proposal practically clinches the party stand on the dry question, it is said. Politicians say only a miracle of some sort can prevent the adoption of the dry plank. Dry leaders say its adoption by a safe majority is a foregone conclusion.

The decision to select the resolutions committee by districts, made last night by the central committee, insured a majority of the platform committee to be composed by dry members.

The plan was opposed by wet members of the central committee.

The platform also is expected to contain a proposal favoring the submission by congress of a national equal suffrage amendment and urging its adoption by the state. This stand on suffrage is said to be prompted in recognition of the work being done by women in helping to win the war and the sacrifices they are making in sending their boys to the front.

Two other noteworthy platform declarations are expected to be on socialism and foreigners entering the state. It is understood that a strong denunciation of all tendencies toward socialism and other forms of radical government will be made and plans to counter-act their development urged upon the federal government. A demand also probably will be made that all foreigners entering the state be given a definite time in which to declare their intentions to become citizens and that all who do not become citizens be required to register and report at stated periods.

Strong endorsement of the former administration of Governor Willis Senator Harding are expected to be made, and planks pledging financial relief for cities without injuring the 1 per cent tax law and for schools also probably will be adopted.

Another plank recommending that legislation be enacted that will permit public utilities to appear in the state supreme court to determine whether the state public utilities commission or the local city government has authority to fix rates for service, before any appraisal of their properties is undertaken has been suggested to the makers of the platform. This proposal is said to be put forward to relieve the state and utilities of unnecessary expense in making appraisals and was prompted by the state supreme courts decision in the Cincinnati gas case.

National Chairman Hayes announced on his arrival from the east this morning that it will be impossible for any of the senators who had been scheduled to address the convention to be present owing to the urgent war legislation that is up for consideration. The only speeches therefore will be Senator Harding, Mr. Hayes and Mr. Willis.

E. M. Fullington who was chosen last night as chairman of the executive committee to manage the fall campaign was the recipient of extended congratulations today. His selection appeared to be meeting with general approval.

FRENCH ARE ADVANCING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Aug. 27.—French troops advanced this morning in the region of St. Mard, southwest of Roye after having repulsed a number of enemy counter-attacks in that sector, according to the official statment issued at the war office today. They have captured 1,100 prisoners, including two battalion commanders, the statement says.

East of Braneux north of the Aisne the French have advanced their line about three quarters of a mile, the statment says. German counter-attacks were repulsed in this region.

The text of the statement reads:

"South of the Avre French troops accentuated their progress this morning in the region of St. Mard, after having repulsed a number of enemy counter-attacks. We have taken more than 1,100 prisoners during these combats. Of these 35 are officers, two of whom are battalion commanders.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne German counter-attacks west of Chavigny, broke down last evening. Thirty prisoners remained in our hands. In the region east of Bagneux we have advanced our line about 1,200 metres.

"During the night there were lively artillery duels between the Ailette and the Aisne."

pose quickly of all amendments to the man-power bill extending draft age limits to 18 and 45 years and prepare for the final vote. Debate, according to the unanimous consent agreement, was to be limited after 1 o'clock.

The principal contest was expected over the amendment offered by Senator Thomas of Colorado, providing that men given deferred classification upon absenting themselves from work without legitimate cause shall lose the deferred classification and become automatically liable for immediate induction into military service of youths under 21 years, but

Other amendments remained to be disposed of today, chiefly provisions for exemption or restricting the service of youths under 21 years, but the only important contest was expected on the Thomas amendment, the final passage of the bill by practically a unanimous vote being predicted.

BRITISH TROOPS HAVE PENETRATED HINDENBURG LINE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

With the British Army in France, Aug. 27 11 a.m.—The Hindenburg line has been penetrated by British troops at a point east of Heninel.

Troops of Field Marshal Haig today are advancing astride the river Scarpe and are pushing forward to the south of Bapaume. Elsewhere along the British front their progress also continues.

There has been heavy fighting at Longueval and on the adjacent ground where the Germans launched a heavy counter-attack with fresh forces brought up especially for the purpose from Sedan.

In the face of this counter-attack the British fell back to the edge of Longueval. In the course of the night the New Zealanders, according to reports, swept around Bapaume at the north and reached the railway just north of the Bapaume-Cambrai road.

The Germans are offering stiff resistance in the neighborhood of Thilloy, to the south of Bapaume.

Reports have been received from the advanced lines that British patrols have again entered the outskirts of Bapaume and that there has been street fighting between the British and Germans on the edge of the town.

The British have penetrated the Hindenburg line at one point to the east of Heninel, which is between Bapaume and the Scarpe river, and hard fighting is reported to be in progress here. The British advanced lines now are reported to be east of Monchy-Le-Preux. German rear guards are fighting to retain the hold on Peives on the south bank of the Scarpe, the British having reached the edge of the town.

North of the Scarpe progress is being made by the British on both sides of the road of Douat. As Haig's forces advanced south of the river, the Germans soon found that the ground north of the stream was extremely dangerous. Here they are being forced back, leaving their rear protected with a large number of machine guns, and are employing the same tactics that they generally are using along the rest of the battle front.

The British advance gives evidence of temporarily slowing up at various places along the front, but intervals of comparative slow movements must be expected during the course of a battle such as this, for the British have now been engaged in hard and continuous open fighting without rest for a week.

Many more prisoners and guns and nother German battalion commander have been taken. The officers fell into the hands of the british in the fighting around Beugnatre, north of Bapaume.

The total number of machine guns taken from the Germans in the present drive must run away up in the thousands. Stacks of these weapons have been captured but it is probable there will be no opportunity for counting them in the immediate future.

FRENCH PATROL BOAT CAPTURES GERMAN WHO SANK LUSITANIA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Aug 27.—Lieut. Schweiger, the man who sank the Lusitania, has been captured by a French patrol boat in the Mediterranean, according to La Journal. A large submarine, of which he was second in command, had just torpedoed a British steamer between Malta and Sicily. The German was waiting to see the vessel sink when two French patrol boats emerged from the fog and sank the U boat. Of the crew of 75 only one officer and four men were rescued by the patrol boats.

While being taken to Toulon the officer appeared ill at ease. When he thought no one was looking he tried to throw some papers overboard but a sailor siezed his arm. He refused to answer questions but an examination of the papers explained his uneasiness.

La Journal asks if the man who committed "the most vile, the most barbarous and the most cowardly act in the annals of war" is merely to be sent to a prison camp.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Within 90 Miles of the Front.

The following letter, dated August 6, was received by Mrs. Laura Walton, 19 East Holliday street, from her son who is in France:

"Dearest Mother—Just a few lines to let you know I am o. k. yet, and having a great time. I have been on dispatch service most of the time since I have been in France and have seen a lot of the country. It is a pretty country, and the people do their best for you, and then complain because they cannot do more. I was within 90 miles of the front at one time, but that is the closest I have been, and that was when we first started out. Now we are going farther away. I received your letter of June 2 day before yesterday. As I am short of paper will have to close, but the first chance I get watch out for a big one from your loving son. George Walton.

Letter From Pearl Hafer.

The following letter has been received by Miss Beatrice Householder, 55 Wilwood avenue, from her cousin, Pearl Hafer, who is now somewhere in France:

"Somewhere in France,
"July 8, 1918.

"Dear Beatrice—Just a few lines to let you know I have not forgotten you, and I am longing for the day when I can see you again and I hope it won't be long, for I surely would like to see good old New York and some other places I have been in since I left Newark. Well, Beatrice; I hope you had a fine time the Fourth. We had lots of fine works, but they shot them at the Germans; some that went over sounded like bushel baskets going through the air. But, of course, you know, they weren't quite that large. You ought to see me now. I look like a rat in his hole. I am away down in my dugout, and the bug-flies are playing a tune around my head, and believe me they are flies, too, not like the American flies. They haven't got a bit of pity for a fellow. They are as dumb as the Germans, and I like to catch them and run a straw through them and let them go, and they act like a German aeroplane when American planes get after them. Say, Beatrice; you remember the picture you sent me when I was in Camp Green? I still got it. But it is now in three pieces and I want you to send me another one, for I got a good place to keep it, and it won't get broke like the other one did, and I will get some taken if I ever get to any place that I can have them. There is only one picture studio where I am now, and that is the Germans, and if they see you they will take your picture, but it will be with a big shell, so I guess I will wait and get some taken. Say, Beatrice; tell me in the answer to this letter how little Dolly is. Well, Beatrice; give my love to all the folks and please don't forget to send me a picture. Well, guess I will have to close, and feed my horses, and get ready for supper, so goodbye, from Pearl Hafer,

William K. Tharp's Letter.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Tharp of Summit Station, O., from her son, William K. Tharp, who is now somewhere in France, with Battery C, 134th field artillery:

"Dear Mother and All—I will now drop you a few lines to let you know that I am all right. We are having nice weather, but it is very dry. We have a very nice place here in an artillery drill-camp. I am getting the letters you wrote me. I received one letter from you the other evening. Well, it is about time for us to go out and drill, so I must close for this time. Don't worry about me, for I am having a fine time. We have plenty to eat and plenty to wear. Write a long letter to me. Don't hesitate to write every time you get a chance. I will close now, hoping these few lines find you all well and happy. Love and good luck to all. Your son,

FRUIT GROWERS ASK EXTENSION FOR PROHIBITION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Aug. 27.—California grape-growers appearing today before the senate agricultural committee urged that the pending national prohibition legislation be amended so as to become effective July 1, 1920, instead of July 1, 1919, as now proposed. They said the July 1 compromise would benefit wine manufacturers but would cause enormous losses to grape-growers.

M. Sheehan of Sacramento, secretary of the California state board of viticulture, told the committee the grape-growers realized that national prohibition is only a question of time but would like to wait for the federal amendment now pending before the states, because it would give them more time to prepare for the transition.

Senator Gore of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, said the federal amendment would be ratified by states by next January or February to become effective one year after ratification. Mr. Sheehan replied that the grape interests in California were preparing for national prohibition by curtailing their production and when two-thirds of the states expressed a desire for national prohibition they would be willing to abandon their business.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

Compromise on the effective date has increased greatly the prospects of passage by the senate of the war time prohibition bill. Even opponents of nationwide prohibition by legislative enactment today were said to believe that the pending bill will be passed.

Prohibition and anti-prohibition forces were under stood practically to have reached an agreement whereby the date when the sale of all liquor must cease will be changed from Jan. 1, 1919, as fixed in the present draft of the bill, to July 1, 1919.

A Story of Re-Born Physical and Mental Power

Showing how iron builds up the blood and makes folks strong and healthy

"HELLO, Jim, you're certainly looking fine."

"Yes, and feeling fine, too—the best in many years. I think I have more strength, energy and ambition than since I was a real young fellow. I am working a great deal harder, doing my work with less effort and getting real pleasure out of it, and I give full credit to that Nuxated Iron I've been taking. You can see for yourself what a short course of it has done for me. My color has come back, my skin has cleared up, I sleep as well as anyone ever did and I eat like I used to twenty years ago. My case was just one of depleted energy due to lack of red corpuscles in the blood, but I have Nuxated Iron to thank for my present excellent condition. I'll never be without it again."

The foregoing is being enacted by thousands of people all over the country. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. If they would only take organic iron—Nuxated Iron—when they feel weak or tired out, instead of dosing themselves with drugs, stimulants and alcohol there are probably thousands who would increase their physical strength and mental energy and build up defenses that would protect them from the millions of germs that are everywhere.

In commenting upon the alarming deficiency of iron in the blood of American men and women, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) New York, and Westchester County Hospital, said: "Notwithstanding all that has been said on the subject of run-down, nervous, weak constitutions, many people do not seem to realize that organic iron—Nuxated Iron—will build up the red corpuscles and help overcome fatigue, anaemia, nervous exhaustion and the countless ills that can be traced in many cases directly to the blood. I strongly advise pale, nervous, run-down women and weak, exhausted men, to try Nuxated Iron. I have never found anything so effective to help increase strength and endurance, give ambition, vitality and power in two weeks' time in many instances.

If you are not strong or well and in tip-top shape, you owe it to yourself to make this test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

WHAT NUXATED IRON IS MADE FROM

Sworn Statement of Composition of its Formula

It increases the strength and endurance of delicate, nervous, run-down folks in two weeks' time in many instances.

Iron Peptonate (Special Specific Standard), Sodium Glycerophosphate U. S. P. (Monsanto), Calcium Glycerophosphate U. S. P. Cascarin Bitter, Magnesium Carbonate, Po Ginger U. S. P. Oil Cassia Cinnimon U. S. P. Calcium Carbonate Precip. U. S. P. (Monsanto), P. E. Nux Vomica U.S.P.

Each dose of two tablets of Nuxated Iron contains one and one-half grains of organic iron in the form of Iron Peptonate of a special specific standard which in our opinion possesses superior qualities to any other known form of iron.

Glycerophosphates used in Nuxated Iron is one of the most expensive tonic ingredients known.

It is especially recommended to build up and thereby increase brain power, as glycerophosphates are said to contain phosphorous in a state very similar to that in which it is found in the nerve and brain cells of a man.

As will be seen from the above, two important ingredients of Nuxated Iron (Iron Peptonate and Glycerophosphate) are very expensive products as compared with most other tonics.

Under such circumstances the temptation to adulteration and substitution by unscrupulous persons, is very great and the public is hereby warned to be careful and see every bottle is plainly labeled "Nuxated Iron" by the Dae Health Laboratories, Paris, London and Detroit, U. S. A., as this is the only genuine article.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists. CHURCHES OF CHRIST ANNUAL COUNTY MEETING

The Annual All-Day meeting of the Churches of Christ of Licking county was held at the Central Church of Christ in this city Sunday. The services of the day were begun with Bible School at 9:30 followed by an inspiring sermon by F. D. Kershner of Cincinnati on the subject "The Christian's Hope."

At the noon hour a bounteous basket dinner was served in the basement of the church.

At 2:30 Brother Kershner again pleased his audience with an address on the subject "True and False Ideals of Life."

His subject for evening was "The Death of the Gods."

Eleven of the thirteen churches of the county were represented at the meeting during the day.

The following officers were elected for ensuing year:

President, Rev. H. H. Carter, Hebron, O.

V. President, Stanton Hoover, Croton, O.

Secretary, Nellie J. Wygant, Pataskala, O.

Treasurer, Frank Morgan, Newark, O.

The date of the next meeting was changed to the first Sunday in September in year of 1919.

The following resolutions were adopted:

1. Whereas the co-operative interest in the churches of the county has been much improved during the last year,—We recommend that the county continue the same program as last year in holding all-day, quarterly meetings at the various churches and we further urge that each congregation be as well represented at each meeting as possible.

2. Realizing the need of the spiritual growth of our churches now as never before on account of the world war—We recommend and urge for the spiritual growth and uplift of the congregations that each church in the county hold an evangelistic meeting sometime during the year and further recommend that the services of the ministers of the county be volunteered to hold meetings in the various churches that should call for them.

3. Inasmuch as there are some organizations of Churches of Christ near county who may not have a part in any other organization or union—be it resolved that if they are not affiliated with any other organization, that we cordially invite them into our County Union.

4. Full realizing that the men and millions movement has met with great success in Licking county—be it resolver that each congregation be loyal in paying their pledges each year and we further recommend that the money be paid to institutions only that are sound in the doctrine of the Word and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Christian Standard and Evangelist.

5. Whereas the continued fight for Prohibition in our beloved State of Ohio is on again—be it resolved that the Churches of Christ in Licking county re-enter the fight against King Alcohol with renewed vigor.

6. Whereas during the past year Brother Percy Wilson, Pastor of the church of Utica, has been called to his reward—be it resolved that our sympathy be extended to Sister Wilson in the loss of her husband and the Utica church in the loss of their pastor.

7. Be it resolved that we express our sincere thanks and appreciation to those who have had any part on program and to all who have added in any way to the success of the meeting.

8. Be it resolved that the Secretary be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to each church in the county with understatnding that they be read to the congregation.

MARCHING TO BERLIN

The military experts, both here and in Europe, have been divided into two parties, "Easteners" and "Westeners." The Easteners favored attacking Germany in the rear through Russia, Austria, or the Balkans. The Westeners believed Germany is most vulunerable on the west front where we can easiest reach her.

The great difficulty about attack through Austria or the Balkan peninsula is that the ground includes some of the most rugged territory in the world. The Italians accomplished in the first two years of their war some marvellous feats of mountain fighting. In the precipitous slopes of the Alpine hights they could advance but about 20 miles. The Balkan peninsula is so cut up by mountains that an offensive force would have to advance up narrow valleys which could be defended by a relatively small force.

There is one road for attack not yet thoroughly tried out. And that is the southern part of the Western front along the border of Alsace, territory stolen 50 years ago from France by Germany. During the first few days of the war the French made excellent progress into this territory, but had to fall back since the Germans were getting so near Paris. There is one rugged mountain chain, the Vosgee. Behind that the country is level.

It is full of promise for the future that our boys seem to be taking over this part of the line.

A fairly strong attack there would compel the Germans to divert heavy forces from the present fighting ground. Then it would seem as if the main body of Americans, French and English could surely break through in the comparatively level territory of the north over which most of the fighting has taken place.

BOYS WHO LEAVE SCHOOL

It is reported as probable that a great many boys will leave school this fall earlier than they expected, on account of chances to earn high wages. In so far as young boys quit study at an immature age, the country will suffer from the interruption of their education.

Our prospective army of 5,000,000 men, compels a readjustment of our economic life while the war is in progress. The majority of these men come from essential industries. Their places must be filled. Many of the boys who take up their work will be doing good patriotic services, and should not be discouraged.

We must expect that a great many men who are called into the army will not be able to complete their regular scholarastic education. That is one of the sacrifices called for by war. It is worth it for what we shall get.

But a great many of these boys will leave school at the age of 14 to 16 from a mere money making motive, and will enter industries that could get along somehow without them. A great many such boys will take places that could be filled by women and girls who have completed their education.

When the education of young people is interrupted, their productive power is stunted. Also they are not so likely to develop into the most intellectual type of citizens.

Some of the boys of 14 to 16 think they are performing a great stroke when they quit school, tempted by some job at good pay. They usually squander a good deal of their money, and they are forever handicapped by the incompleteness of their training.

AN ARMY OF 5,000,000.

There have been plenty of doubters who a few months ago said the United States could not raise and supply the army of 5,000,000 men for which the government is now calling. In so far as they figured on a shortage of shipping, their gloomy forecasts will not be sustained. With the tremendous increase of our ship production, far exceeding sinkings by submarines, we are going to have plenty of ships. It will be no worse supplying the men than to take care of them by shipments by rail.

During the civil war the men engaged on both sides numbered 3,500,000. At that time the United States had less than a third the population it now has, and about one twenty-fifth of the present wealth. We would have to put 12,000,000 men into the field to equal what our fathers did.

The machinery of civilization has of course grown more complex. In civil war times more men proportionately worked at farming and in small workshops. They probably felt freer to leave the call of the country. Those were simple times. People were accustomed to get along with fewer things, and could deny themselves with less effort.

Today in spite of all our great army already called out, things run along with far less disturbance than would have been thought possible. Most of the factories are running. Few people are idle. Little complaint is heard of poverty or suffering. Our burdens may be trying, but they are not yet anything like what those who have gone before us have borne.

So let us not be satisfied with small results. It will be far cheaper to lives and money to put this war through to a prompt conclusion, than to let it drag on year after year.

When some men are asked what they did to help win the war, they will be able to say that they sat around the hangouts and demonstrated to the satisfaction of the loafers how the war could be won if they were only running it.

Some one wants to know what has become of the people who would not attend church because they couldn't afford good clothes? Well, some of 'em have bought a flivver and are running around the country Sundays.

Correspondents who ask what is the most popular book of the summer is informed that during vacation season it is probably the new interchangeable mileage book for all railroads.

The government having invited enlistment of over age men in certain services, we are all listening to those leading citizens who wanted to go so badly.

This naming the aviation fields after fliers that have lost their lives, would not seem just calculated to promote the courage of the novice.

The motorists deny that they see the warning signs along the highways, as they are going so fast they couldn't possibly read them.

The food dealers try to console us for raising food prices by telling us the prices will go higher still later on.

Undoubtedly the Germans retreated voluntarily, as they claim, as they saw they had to get out of harm's way.

The profiteers won't begin to make money enough to buy the good will of the soldiers when they get back.

THE COMPETENT M'ADOO.

(Philadelphia Record.)

As a financier Secretary McAdoo seems to be guided by the soundest principles in the measures he is advocating in framing the new revenue bill for the raising of many billions of dollars. The clarity of his explanations and the firm grasp he has shown in handling very intricate problems of finance and taxation have won high praise from authorities in such matters. As the director General of Railroads the secretary is also making good, if one may believe railway men. One of the most competent critics on this point is The Railway Age, whose editor has been for many years a strong and consistent opponent of government ownership or operation of railroads. He still holds to his views as a matter of policy in times of peace, but as a war measure he is reconciled to the present plan of federal operation of the roads. Regarding Mr. McAdoo's part in this almost revolutionary reversal of all American traditions he says:

"Every intelligent person now recognizes the fact that at the end of 1917 it had become necessary for the government to come to the rescue of the railway companies The government chose to guarantee the returns of the companies and to take the operation of their properties out of their hands. It is now clear that if government operation was to be adopted it was necessary to put some non-railroad man representing the national administration in charge. If any railroad man had been appointed director general he would long ere this have been torn to pieces by shippers, the press and the public. Since, as we can now clearly see, it was desirable to put a public man in charge it is safe to say that President Wilson could not have selected a better man than Mr. AcAdoo.

"Mr. MacAdoo undoubtedly has made mistakes, some of them great ones, but there are certain far greater mistakes which a man in his position might have made, but which he has not made. He has not made the mistake of putting incompetent or inexperienced men in important positions. On the contrary, he has put in almost all important positions men who are eminently fitted for them by experience and ability. He has not made the mistake of showing want of courage. If he has shown courage to do some things which are open to criticism, he has also shown the courage in most cases to hold the politicians at arm's length, and he has made advances in rates which are larger than any railway man would have dared to make but which experience is rapidly showing are not larger than are needed. So far as moving business is concerned, the railways undoubtedly are being efficiently operated."

LITTLE LESSONS LEARNED.

(Buffalo Express)

Adding a little timely stuff to the line of chatter made justly famous by the Emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus, I will allow that.

From the kaiser I learned never to start anything I can't finish.

From vaudeville, that an old joke never dies.

From the weather man, that street thermometers are always deceitful

From pussy-footed politicians, to let well enough alone (I don't think)!

From the armchair restaurants, not to put my left elbow in my neighbor's custard pie.

From my barber, why Fred Fulton is not in Jack Dempsey's class.

Also from my barber, that I nearly always need a haircut.

From my grocer, that eggs is eggs and that they are never graded according to size. Positively!

From my haberdasher, that the decorous shirts in the window, which occasionally catch my eye, do not come in my size.

From the statute of David in Delaware Park, the Goliath must have stood at least 40 feet in his sandals.

From the nobby guy who sits crosslegged in street cars, that silk socks make monkeys out of a few of us.

ENGLAND AND THE WAR

(Ohio State Journal)

Ex-President Taft's latest article, in The Philadelphia Public Ledger pays high tribute to Great Britain for the part it has taken in the big war. He says:

The fact is that Great Britain alone has sent on land and sea a total of six and a quarter millions Her empire has added two and quarter millions more to this. Over eight millions, instead of eighty thousand—a hundred in place of one. That is the British way. When we send fifteen millions we will have done as well—but not until then.

How very close has Great Britain's sacrifice brought her to this country. If thehe ever were any unfriendly memories or lingering animosities they have now wholly disappeared, and the two nations are now thoroughly devoted to one another. England is fighting our battles as well as her own, and if we send 5,000,000 soldiers into the conflict we will have done no more than Great Britain has already done. As a matter of fact, Great Britain has saved civilization and America's great duty now is to stand by her and see that it is not wrested from her.

BLOWS YET TO BE STRUCK

(Philadelphia Ledger.)

Chaulnes is the Soissons of the Somme offensive. By fighting fiercely to hold it the Germans hope to extricate themselves from the Roye-Noyon salient as they did, from the Marne salient, and fall back with the least possible loss of men and munitions If they can establish themselves firmly on the Noyon plateau and at the Vesle, then both the allied drives will be checked for the moment Yet this advantage may easily prove to be illusory. Foch has the initiative, and he is not confined to maneuvering in any particular sector Thus he may be preparing a blow in Flanders, where the situation now is apparently what the situation before Amiens was a week ago. Again, the new American army under Pershing, which holds the line south of Verdun, may before long be in a condition to begin an offensive in Alsace. This would be an invasion of German territory—a blow peculiarly depressing to the German people. Nor must we forget that General Diaz has an army at the Piave, which has amply demonstrated its superiority to the enemy and which is eager to advance, whenever the word is given. Foch is not compelled to follow up any one blow in order to retain the initiative. Indeed, to deliver a new blow while the enemy is resisting the first is the very obvious purpose of his strategy.

SIX QUESTIONS.

(New York Independent.)

If coal will win the war, why not save the 60,000,000 tons used by the saloons last year? If food will win the war, why not save the 3,150,000 bushels of grain used for brewing last year? If transportation will win the war, why not save the 157,915 cars used to transport beers, wines and liquors last year? If ships will win the war, why not quit sending abroad the 1,347,777 gallons of whiskey we withdrew for export last March? If labor will win the war, why not put to work at some essential industry the 100,000 bartenders and 54,000 brewery workers now in this country? If money will win the war, why not spend on something useful the $2,000,000,000 we spent on drink last year?

Spain Will Retaliate.

Spain has tried so desperately to preserve her neutrality in the most untoward circumstances that her final decision to begin a policy against Germany is more significant than it would be otherwise. The submarine attacks on her shipping have already destroyed about a fifth of it, and her protests have been met with evasive excuses. Now the Spanish government announces that for every Spanish ship sunk one of the interned German ships is to be seized. A self-respecting nation could hardly do less. The warning that patience is at an end ought to impress Berlin with the danger of its present course: but there is nothing in its past dealings with neutrals to show that this will be the effect Germany has treated neutrals as potential enemies from the very first, and has left nothing undone to make them such.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The House Has Acted.

The extension of the draft age in both directions will have a special significance to Germany, since it will mean that America will utilize her man-power in the effort to force a world peace consistent with our principles Prompt action by Congress on this account is desirable, and it may be added that the moment is psychologically favorable for impressing the German people with America's determination to see the business through.—Springfield Republican.

A SHAMPOO WORTH TRYING

It is not necessary to shampoo your hair so frequently if it is entirely and properly cleansed each time by the use of a really good shampoo. The easiest to use and quickest drying shampoo that we can recommend to our readers is one that brings out all the natural beauty of the hair and may be enjoyed at very little expense, by dissolving a teaspoonful of Canthrox, which can be obtained from any druggist's, in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just to the top of the head This, when rubbed into the scalp and onto every strand of hair, chemically dissolves all impurities. It is very soothing and cooling in its action, as well as beneficial to both scalp and hair. After rinsing but the lather so creates, you will find the scalp is fresh, clean and free from dandruff, while the hair dries quickly and evenly, developing a bright luster and a soft fluffiness that makes it seem very heavy.

Did You Know

That partridge-wood is a very beautiful hard wood from the West Indies and Brazil? It is usually of a reddish color, in various shades from light and dark, the shades being mingled in thin streaks. In some choice sorts they are curled upon one another so as to resemble the feathers of a partridge, whence its name. One variety occurs in which the colors are remarkably bright, in consequence of which it is called pheasant-wood. In Brazil this wood is so plentiful that it is employed in shipbuilding.

Neglecting Your Eyes

Is worse than neglecting almost anything else in the world. Your eyes have much to do with your bodily comfort, and they should get the consideration which their importance deserves. About one person in ten has normal eyes. And anyone who suffers from any obscure or, to him, unaccountable pains or aches, should blame his eyes, at least until he finds out otherwise. Our Boys and Girls

Many young girls are afflicted with round shoulders simply through the carelessness of parents. To ensure a straight back and a beautiful figure, the foundation must be begun in childhood when the bones are soft and pliable. Just a little attention to the way your children walk will do the greater part and then proper exercising will do the finishing.

To correct the tendency to rounded shoulders, the following exercises are recommended: Take a full breath, raise the hands with arms straight above the head. Slowly bring the hands downward and backward, pressing with all the might as if resisting a great weight. When this exercise is finished the hands are nearly together at the back and the chest is expanded and high. Hold the breath during the exercise.

Another good exercise is to take a full breath, raise the arms at the sides level with the shoulders and move the hands in as wide circles as possible.

Disturbed sleep usually comes from some form of indigestion. Strengthen the stomach and stimulate the liver with a course of MILK AS A FOOD.

Economy in the diet does not always depend upon limiting the use of certain foods, but it is sometimes a question of actually increasing the use of foods which furnish nutritive material at relatively low cost. Milk belongs to the latter class, and the housewife would do well to study its food value and decide whether her family is using as much as it should. The average person in this country uses only a little more than a pint of milk daily, and this quantity can very profitably be increased when safe milk is available.

Many people think of milk only as a beverage, but if they understood that it is in reality a nourishing food they would increase their daily allowance.

We eat foods for two main reasons: First, to renew body wastes and promote growth by forming new tissues and fluids; and, second, to supply energy for carrying on body functions. Milk contains the body-building materials (protein) and mineral substances, such as lime and phosphorous, and also supplies energy.

The following table, compiled by specialists of the Department of Agriculture, shows the quantities of various foods needed to supply as much protein or energy as 1 quart of milk:

Protein—1 quart milk is equal to:
- 7 ounces of sirloin steak.
- 6 ounces of round steak.
- 4.2 eggs.
- 2.6 ounces of fowl.

Energy—1 quart of milk is equal to:
- 11.3 ounces of sirloin steak.
- 14.9 ounces of round steak.
- 9 eggs.
- 14.4 ounces of fowl.

The successful trickster is the one who makes no outcry when he gets caught in his own trap.

Milady's Boudoir

Smile and Win the World.

What is more infectious than a woman's smile which emanates directly from the heart and shines in the eyes? The whole souled kind of a smile is not the made to order variety. Smiles, dimples and blushes go a long way to enhance a face, whether it is fair or plain.

The old saying is that dimples and blushes go together, but old sayings are not always true. Blushing is largely a matter of practice and the result of a good healthy skin. The woman who lets her skin grow dull and thick, with hardened muscles and the corners of her mouth sagging, will never find herself blushing, while the girl who looks well to her complexion and her general health, will find that the rosy flushes come easily.

Cultivate smiles, for these keep the lines of the face softened and help to hide old age. Habitual pouting enlarges and coarsens the lower lip, and all the unconscious tricks of facial expression increases and deepens the lines. In positive malformation of course, a surgeon should be consulted, but a slight defect can be largely relieved at home.

Stand before a mirror and "try on" pleasant expressions just as you would a new hat. Try and try again, always looking in the glass. Strive to attain a smile that shows your teeth, for the whiteness of them will lend brightness to an otherwise dull face.

What The Packers Do For You

Not very many years ago in the history of the world, the man that lived in America had to hunt for his food, or go without.

Now he sits down at a table and decides what he wants to eat; or his wife calls up the market and has it sent home for him. And what he gets is incomparably better.

Everyone of us has some part in the vast human machine, called society, that makes all this convenience possible.

The packer's part is to prepare meat and get it to every part of the country sweet and fresh—to obtain it from the stock raiser, to dress it, cool it, ship it many miles in special refrigerator cars, keep it cool at distributing points, and get it into the consumer's hands—your hands—through retailers, all within about two weeks.

For this service—so perfect and effective that you are scarcely aware that anything is being done for you—you pay the packers an average profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound above actual cost on every pound of meat you eat.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.

"Baree, Son of Kazan."

"Baree, son of Kazan," the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature which will be the attraction in the Grand theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, is announced by Vitagraph to be one of the most remarkable pictures ever released by that company. A stirring, swift moving drama of the big woods, lakes and rivers of the Northwest, especial interest centers on Baree, half wolf and half dog, protege, protector and, finally, avenger, of Nepeese.

Five malamute dogs, ranging in age from a puppy to a full grown husky were used in the picture to impersonate Baree, and the astonishing intelligence each displays throughout the picture reflects the greatest credit on David Smith, who directed the picture, and on Neil Shipman, who made the dogs her constant companions, won their affection and then their obedience. No less remarkable and beautiful in the extreme, are the snow scenes. All exteriors were taken in dead of winter in the snow-bound passes north of Truckee, California.

ALHAMBRA.
Wednesday and Thursday.

Laughter will reign supreme at the Alhambra Wednesday and Thursday when "Smiling George" Walsh will appear in his newest Wm Fox production "The Kid Is Clever."

To see George Walsh flit nimbly up the masts of a big ocean liner or swing himself aboard by means of a derrick rope gives one that happy feeling which comes with the contemplation of any work of art. It is all done so freely and easily that one has to laugh merely at the recollection of it. The name of George Walsh before a motion picture theatre is a sure guarantee of a good time on the inside.

This time George portrays the role of Kirk White, a young idler who is afflicted with a supreme case of ennui. Through a series of misunderstandings, he thinks that he is the victim of a gang of motion picture makers, when in reality he is merely getting more deeply mixed in a villainous Mexican plot. Doris Pawn is the beautiful maiden and Ralph Lewis the villain.

Friday and Saturday.

The lives of Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne were endangered while they were acting in scenes for "Social Quicksands," a Metro All-Star Series picture, which will be offered on the screen at the Alhambra Friday and Saturday. The company was working along the banks of a river at the foot of a high cliff. Just above this location, a gang of men were clearing land to build a tennis court for a well-known millionaire, on whose estate the Metro company was working. The workman used blasting powder to remove some heavy rocks and exploded a rather heavy charge, which caused a shower of boulders to rain down on the Metro players, many of the missiles narrowly missing the screen favorites.

GEM.
Wednesday.

Douglas Fairbanks is one of the few screen actors who absolutely and repeatedly refuses to permit anyone to double for him in any scene, however dar from the camera. Many Triangle directors have said that they did not believe it was humanly possible for anyone to double for Fairbanks, because the characteristic walk and poise could not be duplicated by anyone they had seen, including practiced imitators. Before Triangle camera man the star has wrestled with wild animals, whizzed out of sight in an aeroplane, and in "The Habit of Happiness," to be shown at the Gem theatre on Wednesday he routs a gang of hard-knuckled East Side toughs who make no effort to spare realism.

AUDITORIUM.
"The Yellow Ticket."

"The Yellow Ticket" at the Auditorium today is a sensational story of Russia under the reign of the Czars, full of thrills, and intensely dramatic situations. The story deals with amazing aventures of Anna Mirrel, a young Jewish girl of exceptional beauty, whom the Secret Service of Russia attempt to force into the life of an outcast because of her race.

Baron Andrey, head of the Okrana (Secret Police), sends Petrov Pavlak to the small town of Tasepevka to stir up the Moujks against the Jews in that district. The storm of violence breaks shortly after Anna Mirrel sends her father on his way to St. Petersburg. The Moujks massacre the Jews, among them Anna's mother.

Anna receives word from St. Petersburg that her father is dying. Unable to leave "the pale of the settlement" without a passport from the Secret Police, Anna throws herself upon their mercy. Insolently they tell her there is only one passport which she may have. She eagerly requests it and is handed the Yellow Ticket, the badge of dishonor which is carried by the unfortunate outcasts of society.

This feature is seen tomorrow also.

Charles Ray.

At the Alhambra theatre Thursday, young Charles Ray, who has come to be the typical American youth, is appearing in a very typically American photoplay entitled "The Hired Man." This is from the pen of Julien Josephson and was directed by Victor Schertzinger under the direct supervision of Thomas H. Ince. Dealing with the attempts of the hero to better himself, at the same time making a tremendous sacrifice for the girl he loves, "The Hired Man" contains a plot of the most intensely appealing type. The engagement is for three days.

"Triple Trouble."

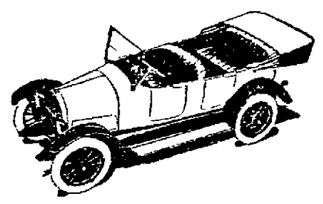

Lovers of fun are in for a treat, when Charlie Chaplin, famed as one of the real clever laugh-makers, who comes to the Auditorium in a new picture, that is, one that has never been shown before. This feature, "Triple Trouble," has lain in the vaults of the Essanay company for nearly two years and is just being put on the market. It is a costly one to the Auditorium, but as high cost doesn't cut any figure when it is laid out lightly for Auditorium fans, therefore "Triple Trouble" will be screened Thursday, Friday and Saturday, together with Charles Ray, who comes in his latest Paramount feature, "The Hired Man."

Lois Weber's New Star.

Lois Weber has completed a companion picture to "The Price of a Good Time." Under the title of "The Doctor and the Woman," this new Jewel production will be shown at the Auditorium theatre next Sunday.

"The Doctor and the Woman" is the photoplay adaptation of Mary Roberts Rinehart's popular novel "K." Originally published in McClure's Magazine, the demand for it to appear in book form eventually caused it to run through several editions.

Always seeking for screen material, Lois Weber is said to have had her attention called to "K," with the result that arrangements for its picturization were immediately effected.

GRANVILLE

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Aug. 27.—Is not this report encouraging and worth the effort that has been put forth? From the chairman of the committee of Child Welfare, comes the following statement, issued August 19, 1918, with the caution against too great self-satisfaction over this result, in as much as the death rate of babies always is the lowest in June—but this is a great gain over other years.

"From all over the State come reports of the weighing and measuring tests and promise of to follow up the work. This is most encouraging and means that Ohio is going to rank high among the states that are recognizing the value of conserving and fostering our most precious possession—the child life of the country.

"Ohios best baby-saving record to date was marked up in June. Infant mortality reaches low figure of 802, more than equalling children's year quota 477 less than the average monthly quota."

Granville, as we remember, has been active in this grand work under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Burton Case, who is chairman of the Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense, and the co-operative work of her committees.

"The Prayer Battalion" has been recommended to the Women's Committee of Council of National Defense, hoping that it will soon be organized in Granville.

There will be a "Community Sing" at the residence of Burton Case, West Broadway on Tuesday evening (tonight) at 7 o'clock. Everybody is invited and urged to be present, let us observe the order issued by Governor Cox for the citizens of Ohio wherever they are assembled to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. This is in line with the national program of the Liberty Sing Commission.

The Three M's and L's will meet at the home of Mrs. Will Black Thursday, August 29. There will be a comfort to tie and other A. F. E. W. work.

Mrs. Wm. Blime of Akron and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Deming, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Flory on Centerville, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hobart received word from their grandson Franklin, announcing his safe arrival overseas.

Prof. M. E. Stickney, who has been in the East during the summer, has returned to his home on Burg street.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Case left today in their automobile for Lakeside on Lake Erie and Detroit, Mich., where they will visit their sister.

Fred Scott of Clarksburg, W. Va., has been shaking hands with his many Granville friends.

Howard Evans of Urbana is visiting at the home of his relatives, H. G. Sheidt, corner College and Pearl streets, and J. D. Evans, south Pearl street.

Mrs. Minnie Lyon of Columbus is visiting her sister, Miss Anna Lyon on East Elm street.

Prof. G. F. McKibben is home from Camp Sherman for a few days visit with his daughter.

Miss Letha Tannehill, who spent the summer with her parents, will leave Wednesday for Beaver Dam, Wis., to resume her school work.

THE MARKETS

Wall Street.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Aug. 27.—Nominal changes prevailed at the opening of today's stock market, leaders making only slight upward progress. Trading reflected further restraint as a result of credit restrictions. U. S. Steel eased a small fraction but soon rallied. Coppers, shippings, oils and such equipments as Baldwin Locomotive and Bethlehem Steel were decided firm with distillers and industrial alcohol, but rails displayed some irregularity.

Liberty bonds were variable but French government 5½s were again active at a fraction above par.

The market developed a stronger tone with the progress of the session, but declinings were far below those of the previous forenoon. Specialities were favored by traders, although rails and popular industrials more than held their ground.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The corn market opened weak today on recent rains and more optimistic reports by railroads as to crop conditions. October corn opened ¼c to 1c under yesterday at 1.62 to 1.61¼ and dropped to 1.60⅝ where it steadied.

Oats were inclined to steadiness at the opening, despite heavy receipts, but weakened with corn. October opened ¼c to ⅝c higher at 73⅝c to 73⅞, dropped to 72¾c.

Provisions were dull with lard and ribs, 10@15c under yesterday. There was nothing doing in pork.

TROLLEY LINE DOWN.

The trolley on the North Fourth street car line was down last night for some time, the cause being the breaking of a pole which was holding the trolley up. The trolley was down between High and Locust streets, and presented a serious situation for a little while, but the police arrived on the scene and took charge of affairs until the trolley was replaced, thereby guarding against possible accident. The trouble was soon fixed, and service was resumed by 11 o'clock.

STREETS

rived at the cages, because they are some distance to the rear. This accounts for the fact that many captured Germans, perhaps the number runs well into the thousands, while well outside the zone of fire in accordance with the rules of war, have not yet reached the base cages.

The new section of the battlefront just south of the Scarpe offers great possibilities. The attacking forces here are driving eastward astride the Arras-Cambrai road and are now beyond Monchy-Le-Preux and Wancourt. These points virtually are on the Hindenburg line. The rain during the night did not interfere with the British advance, for the operations now are on hard ground. The rain put the Germans at a disadvantage, particularly those in crater holes with machine guns, as many of the holes were turned into puddles.

As soon as the rain ceased scores of British planes took the air and continued their systematic attacks upon the enemy troops. Tanks again distinguished themselves by overwhelming difficult points where the concentration of machine guns delayed the advancing infantry.

PULLMAN CAR

was about 40 years of age, and perfectly calm. None of the passengers showed any fright. One man when talking of his sensations said he could think of but one thing, that they were going in the river and he was trying to figure out a way to swim while entrapped in the car.

The train crew cut the two rear coaches off, the one next to the last coach leaving the rails when the last car overturned, and the train proceeded on its way taking the twelve people from the damaged car with them.

The train was due through Newark at 11:25, but was running late, and the accident happened a few minutes before 2 o'clock. Early this morning wreck trains of both the B. & O. and Pennsylvania were at work and with the two cranes the two cars were righted. Traffic was not delayed long as the car in falling cleared the second, or east bound track.

A BROKEN JAW SUSTAINED BY PERRYTON MAN

The condition of Frank Phillips, well-known farmer, living at Perryton, is now improving. Mr. Phillips recently suffered an injury, the cause of which is unknown to him.

On last Thursday evening he returned to his home after being at the barn. He was in a dazed condition, and asked what had happened. His family, alarmed at his manner, went to him and found that he had a serious wound on the face. A phsician was called and found that his jaw was broken. Mr. Phillips's mind is a blank to what happened. He has no recollection of being struck by anything, and no knowledge of how he got to the house.

As he had been working in the barn, it is thought that he was passing the stalls and that a horse suddenly kicked him in the jaw.

MAMMOTH ORGAN WILL BE FEATURE AT BIG CARNIVAL

The Col Francis Ferari Shows opened last evening on the show grounds at Jefferson and Eleventh streets and the grounds were crowded.

The shows are all neat and clean and very attractive. The exhibition is given under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World and will remain all week.

Not the least of the many interesting features promised in connection with the Ferari shows will be the mammoth band organ, which adorns the front of the wild animal jungle and which is said to be the largest and most costly organ of its kind in America. It is a huge orchestra made especially for the Ferari shows and represents a full military band of 100 pieces, and it said to have cost $10,000.

The wild animal show is one of the features and Princess Alice makes the animals do her bidding. It is a thrilling exhibition and well worth seeing.

HONEY IN PLACE OF SUGAR.

The simplest way of using honey is to serve it like jam or sirup with bread, breakfast cereals, boiled rice, pancakes, and other mild-flavored foods. As ordinarily used on bread, an ounce of honey "spreads" as many slices as an ounce of jam. When it is to be used in the place of sirup some people dilute it by mixing it with hot water, which has the effect of making it not only less sweet but also easier to pour.

Honey or a mixture of honey and sugar sirup can be satisfactorily used for sweetening lemonade and other fruit drinks. Sirup of any kind is more convenient for this purpose than undissolved sugar, and when charged water is to be added it has a further advantage, since it has less tendency to expel the gas. It is the custom of many housewives to keep a sirup for this purpose, particularly in hot weather, and variety can be secured by occasionally using honey.

The fact that honey consists principally of sugar and water and is slightly acid suggests that it is a suitable substitute for molasses in cookery. As a matter of fact, it can be used in the place of molasses in all forms of breads, muffins and cakes, and makes a more delicately flavored product. It contains less acid than molasses, however, and so requires less soda when it is substituted for molasses in recipes which do not include sour milk or other acid.

As Herbert Spencer Saw Americans.

I perceive in American faces generally a great amount of determination—a kind of "do or die" expression; and this trait of character, joined with a power of work exceeding that of any other people, of course, produces an unparalleled rapidity of progress.—Herbert Spencer.

Rhetorical Caution.

"Do you advise a man to strive for well-rounded periods in writing a speech?" "Emphatically," replied Senator Sorghum. "In fact, if some of us could devote all our time to the punctuation marks and omit words entirely, everybody would feel safer."

Easy Question to Answer.

The conversation in the village hotel had turned on the war, when one of the company asked, "Which is the most warlike nation?" "Vacci-nation," replied the doctor. "It's nearly always in arms."

LABOR DAY IN NEWARK WILL BE ONE BIG TIME

Labor Day this year will be celebrated on a broader and greater scale than ever before. The committee of arrangements is now at work, and if that part means any of the success of the day it is already assured.

Promptly at 10:00 a. m. the huge patriotic parade will move. Every organization will turn out to the man. Various floats will also be shown, depicting the spirit of the day.

For the afternoon a complete program has been arranged, which will be carried out to the letter. This part of the celebration will be held on the square. Athletic events of all kinds will start the afternoon's celebration. Promptly at 2:00 o'clock a patriotic program of speaking and singing will be carried out on the south steps of the court house. Two of Newark's greatest labor leaders, Wm. M. Morgan and George Hamilton will be the speakers. These two gentlement need no introduction, and visitors know something good is in store for them.

In the evening will be carried out a unique and novel feature. A mardi gras and masquerade will be given in the Arcade. No more suitable place could have been secured by the committee for this event. The walk in this place is as smooth and desirable as any floor ever entered. If the weather should happen to be disagreeable nothing will interfere with this part of the program. So it is up to the public to secure the costumes and prepare for one of the best times ever had in this line.

The Parade.

The parade will form at 9:30 a. m on Church street, between Hudson avenue and First street, under the direction of T. O. Sattler and his assistants, and will move promptly at 10 o'clock in the following order:

TRAINING CAMP COMES TO CLOSE AT CHILLICOTHE

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 27.—The Fourth Officers Training Camp came to a close here yesterday.

Eighty-four of the candidates were commissioned a few days ago and assigned to duty with the 84th division. The remaining men who are to become commissioned officers will either be assigned with the depot brigade or with the newly formed 802nd pioneer regiment now stationed at Camp Sherman. It is also believed some of the men may be transferred to Camp Lee, Virginia. Greatest secrecy is being maintained here as to who the successful candidates are. There are 479 candidates in the class.

H. F. Stone, member of a board of inquiry appointed by President Wilson recently to examine men classed as conscientious objectors who refuse to join either combatant or non-combatant organizations, arrived here yesterday to examine such objectors. Eight from Camp Custer and several from Camp Taylor have been brought here expressly for the examination.

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

More than $300,000 worth of War Savings Stamps (cash value) must still be sold before Licking county is over the top. The cash sales up to and including Aug. 22 amounted to $903,558, just $332,642 short of this county's quota. Heavy buying is reported this week from Granville and Johnstown and some of the Newark banks are making unusually good sales this week but the impression in some quarters that the campaign is over and that Licking county is among the winners is wrong. The pledges taken in the recent campaign are not sufficient to put the county "over the top" even if every one of them is redeemed. The War Savings Stamp campaign should be out of the way before the Fourth Liberty Loan arrives in October and the way to get it out of the way is to buy W. S. S. now. Remember that the world's best investment is W. S. S.—tax free, 4.27 per cent and money back anytime upon 10 day's notice.

During the week ending Aug. 15 the W. S. S. sales in Licking county amounted to $57,325; for the week ending Aug. 22 the sales were $57,024. What will this week's sales be? This is the last week in which stamps may be bought for $4.19. The price advances to $4.20 Sept. 1.

The Home Building Association of Newark has sold $85,000 worth of War Savings Stamps to date. The war work—sale of bonds and stamps and work in connection with the War Chest has assumed such proportions at the Old Home that an extra clerk has been employed to take care of it. This is an added expense which the "Old Home" is meeting in assuming its share of the war burden.

Postmaster Geach of Granville, has turned into the national treasury from the sale of war savings stamps to Aug. 22 $68,729.97. Mr. Geach has kept a record of every stamp purchase regardless of amount. He has already sent in a large number of Victory List names and promises more before Sept. 1.

KIWANIS CLUB CLOSES CHARTER

The Kiwanis club met at the Masonic temple, Monday, at the usual hour.

Robert A. Crawford of The Citizens Building and Loan Association, was introduced by President Gard as the new member of the club.

A. J. Pray of Kansas City, was the guest of the club and spoke of the many benefits to be derived by being a member of organizations of the character of this club.

Kiwanis T. O. Speck was the silent booster of the day.

An interesting article by Kiwanis Lender of the Y. M. C. A. was read by the secretary, explained why the Kiwanis Killers were defeated by the Methodists in a recent game of baseball.

The next regular meeting falling on Labor Day it was decided by the members present to hold this meeting on Wednesday, September 4, instead of on Labor Day. At this meeting the charter will be closed and the election of permanent officers will take place.

The club has not been in a hurry to organize because it was the aim of the members to select only the best men of the city to make up the membership, it has developed in a very satisfactory manner. The 50 members that compose the club are to be congratulated on the high type of its membership. Later on the club will begin to expand and take in more members, but for the time-being it was decided to limit the membership to 50.

FELLOWSHIP AND BUSINESS MEETING BAPTIST CHURCH

On Friday evening, August 30, will occur the annual fellowship meeting, and also the annual business meeting of the First Baptist church. Tables will be set and supper served in the dining room at 6 o'clock.

Following the supper there will be a roll call and business meeting. The aim is to make this first fellowship meeting in the new church the best in spite and point of number that the church has ever known.

Every member of every Baptist family is not only invited but expected to be present.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE WAR WELFARE WORK

Christian Science camp welfare work is now being carried on in 45 army and navy camps in the United States under direction of the Christian Science war relief and camp welfare committee of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. There are at present sent 70 men and 15 women engaged in this work.

Conducted at first independently, the camp welfare work has been merged with the war relief work which the Christian Scientists were doing in foreign countries before the United States entered the war. For both these purposes about one million dollars has been raised.

The aim of the Christian Science camp workers is to be as helpful as possible to all the men in the camps, and particularly to give assistance which may not be available at the time or place through any of the other camp welfare agencies. A feature of this phase of the work is an arrangement for keeping soldiers and sailors in close touch with their relatives.
